Continuing your life insurance coverage

You may elect to continue your existing basic and optional life insurance coverage within the month of your retirement or two calendar months immediately following the date you retire (initial retiree enrollment period). Basic and optional life insurance cannot be elected outside of this period.

The amount of basic retiree life insurance is determined by the retired employee's age as follows:

- $5,000 for retirees under age 67
- $2,500 for retirees age 67 and above
- Optional term life Continue your current amount of coverage (to a maximum of $150,000), and your current dependent coverage. EOI is not required. Optional life is decreasing term coverage (see the next page for more detail).
- Accidental death and dismemberment Coverage does not continue into retirement.

Frequently asked questions

How do I pay for coverage?

Premiums for basic and optional life are paid by the retiree.

All retiree life insurance is decreasing term coverage, which means that it decreases in value as you age and the premiums increase. Rates are not guaranteed and are subject to change. Your life insurance premiums will be based on the information PEIA received on your current plan year tobacco affidavit.

Can I increase my optional insurance?

During the initial retiree enrollment period, you may also elect to increase your optional insurance, or add or increase dependent coverage. EOI is required for any increase in the amount of optional coverage. Any amount of coverage requiring EOI will become effective on the first day of the month following the date Securian approves the application.

Optional life insurance cannot be elected or increased outside of this period, unless you have a newly eligible dependent. For newly eligible dependents, Plan 1 can be elected without providing EOI. All other plans are subject to EOI.
